THE CARONTAWAN

1960

MANSFIELD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
MANSFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA

Once again "Old Mansfield" has seen many new and familiar faces come and go on her campus. She has seen them show happiness, sadness, and eagerness for learning. She has guided, instructed, and molded the individual qualities of each student. As time passed, memories were recorded and traditions built within the hearts of her students.

With the coming of June, into many obscure and dusty cabinets are filed budget reports, grades, and various other vital statistics. But the spirit of friendliness and an intangible nostalgia live on, carried into far and distant corners by each alumnus.

Proud is "Old Mansfield," for she has seen progress in action. M.S.T.C. has grown in numbers, improved in appearance, and risen to higher educational standards. All this made possible because of a farsighted, devoted administration and faculty and a dynamic, intelligent student body.

In this Carontawan lie the attempts of the yearbook staff to preserve for all time a reminder of Mansfield's softly rolling lawns, her guiding elders, and her cherished "teachers of tomorrow." May this book serve as a symbol of a spirit which lives on under the watchful and loving eye of "Old Mansfield, high upon her eastern hill."

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT

President Lewis W. Rathgeber

Dear Faculty and Students,

Perhaps the greatest debt we owe to the members of our Carontawan staff is found in the theme of this year's book — a history of campus life. The staff members have done a remarkable piece of work in their portrayal of the 1959-60 academic year at Mansfield.

Yet in a larger sense the history of campus life has been recorded in the work of each participant in the yearly pageant which unfolds at Mansfield. The keystone of each student's participation has been in the classroom. From this center there have radiated many other activities. Student government, student publications, athletics, social events, dramatics, and debating have all been part of the warp and woof of this wonderful fabric which has been woven during the past year. The history has also been in the work of students, faculty, and the hundred or more individuals on the administrative and service staffs who have kept this institution in operation.

Students arrived in September, 1959, a few days after the faculty had engaged in a stimulating conference on the problems of curricula which beset the Atomic Age. The College then opened one of the finest Mansfield Feature Series of modern times with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. From then on we successively passed through the football schedule, the superb Christmas program, and the basketball season. Then, who can forget the College Players productions and the fun at dances and on weekends? These are the things from which memories are made. Each of you must treasure certain moments, certain nostalgic thoughts which flow back at this hour of parting. If only one could relive those moments of happiness and see once more the faces of those who helped to make them so happy. Now we recognize the finality expressed in the words of the old Persian philosopher who said, "This too shall pass, we pass this way but once."

Many faculty members and students must feel the same as I in the sense that each memory may bring a certain amount of sadness. We have lived with the Class of 1960 for four years. Now they go forth to carve their futures. We are saddened to see them go; yet, we appreciate the happiness they have brought to us and which they have shared with us. Our sadness is tempered by that very happiness and by the belief that we have tried to do the best we possibly can for all.

Above all else we see the inexorable tide of history through the years and know that mankind cannot turn back. "The moving finger writes, and having writ moves on."

To the Carontawan staff a word of thanks for capturing for us some of this history and to the Class of 1960 — Good Luck and God Bless You!

Sincerely,

LEWIS W. RATHGEBER
President

PRESIDENT RATHGEBER AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STUDENT BODY

Edward Sauders, Nancy Vaughn, President Rathgeber, James Ide, Jerome O'Dell, Bonelyn Lugg, David Russell.

DEAN OF INSTRUCTION
Dr. Harry W. Earley
B.A., M.Ed., Ed.D., Pennsylvania State University

DEAN OF INSTRUCTION

The duties of the Dean of Instruction are divided into three major headings: registration and scheduling, instruction, and maintenance of records.

Dean Earley's instructional duties require that he establish academic programs for both the faculty and students. In addition, he must schedule classrooms and make sure that each candidate for a degree meets the proper requirements for graduation and certification.

Students have found Dean Earley most able to give helpful guidance to them in the solving of their curriculum problems. It is under his auspices that they receive their grade cards, that the Dean's list is prepared, and that individual problems of professional preparation are solved. His services are innumerable and his interest great.

Dean Earley and Secretary, Mrs.
Clarence Hunsicker.

Dean Godward and Secretary, Mrs. Richard Phillips.

Thomas E. Godward, Dean of Students, finds that his chief responsibility is the student — and his or her welfare. Mr. Godward's office might be called "The Hub" of student affairs. The planning, organization, and supervision of such affairs are subordinated around Dean Godward who acts as the central force. His duties bring him into direct contact with practically every person or group of persons on campus. He works with the individual student who wishes to acquire student aid or a scholarship. He works with the Dietician concerning food service; the Dean of Men and Dean of Women on matters of student government, counseling and housing; and the faculty on matters of student advisory work.

Such a list of duties can mean only one thing— hard work. Hard work, too, can mean only one thing — success. And Dean Godward has worked hard.

Dean Jackson making arrangements for a pleasant College social occasion.

Miss Ellamae Jackson, Dean of Women, is responsible for the welfare of all women students attending Mansfield State Teachers College. Whether the problem is a torn mattress, probation, finances, or homesickness, it becomes Miss Jackson's concern. Resident House Mothers are directly responsible to Miss Jackson for all activities in the dormitory. Not only is she an adviser to all individual women students, she is also an official adviser of the freshman class, Student Council, and the Women's Dormitory Council. She is also the official social director for the entire campus.

Miss Jackson, working under the direction of the Dean of Students, is responsible directly to the President of the college for all women students. Her success in these areas is reflected by a smoothly operating and friendly campus.

DEAN OF MEN
 Albert K. Sundberg
 B.S., Lock Haven; M.Ed., Pennsylvania State University

DEAN OF MEN

Mr. Albert Sundberg, Dean of Men, is in charge of all men students attending Mansfield State Teachers College. His position embodies such activities as being a counselor to all the men, assisting in room inspection, and comforting homesick lads. Along with the duty of conferring with students, Mr. Sundberg advises the freshman class, the Student Council, and the Men's Dormitory Council. All activities in or under the auspices of the men's dormitory are within the supervision of Mr. Sundberg.

Working under the direction of the Dean of Students, Mr. Sundberg is directly responsible to the President of the college.

Mr. Sundberg's first year as Dean of Men has proved his able leadership and understanding of student needs. Efficiency speaks for itself.

Dean Sundberg, Assistant Dean Edward Stelmack, and Secretary, Mrs. Carole Dempsey.

Leon E. Lunn
B.S., Mansfield; M.Ed., St. Bonaventure

DEAN OF ADMISSIONS AND DIRECTOR OF ALUMNI RELATIONS

Mr. Leon Lunn, Dean of Admissions and Director of Alumni Relations, is directly responsible for all parts of the College Admissions Program. In this capacity, he spends much time interviewing student applicants and evaluating the high school records and recommendations of each individual. He directs the testing program dealing with admissions and from which final evaluations are made regarding each prospective student.

Mr. Lunn makes many contacts with high schools throughout the state. His attendance is requested for "College Days" and "Career Programs" held annually by many schools.

In addition to his responsibilities as Dean of Admissions, Mr. Lunn is also Director of Alumni Relations, a position which demands the fullest amount of time and much personal dedication.

His philosophy — "Do all that is possible to afford every capable student a college opportunity" — is the key to the successful and intelligent manner in which the duties of his office are performed.

Dean Lunn and Secretary, Mrs. William Farrell.

Dr. Wilson at work in the Placement Office.

Dr. Richard M. Wilson, in his capacity as Director of Student Teaching and Placement, offers the final guiding hand to the students of M.S.T.C. Each eager new graduate is directed to a most suitable and satisfying position through the able assistance and supervision of Dr. Wilson. In placing the graduate, he is offering his guidance for the second time in the student's college career, for in their junior and senior years Dr. Wilson supervises the student teaching program.

During the past school year the student teaching program expanded into area high schools for the first time. With this expansion, the responsibilities of Dr. Wilson also increased.

His unending efforts have produced much success. This success is evident throughout our state and many other states in innumerable high schools where the graduates of M.S.T.C. perform their professional tasks.

BUSINESS MANAGER

Mr. Theodore Spentzas, as Business Manager, is responsible for all non-instructional areas of the campus. Among his many responsibilities are the hiring of non-instructional personnel, providing necessary funds for campus operation, directing the catering service, the over-all supervision of the maintenance staff, and making sure that pay checks arrive on schedule.

These, plus innumerable other duties, require much time and effort on the part of Mr. Spentzas. His ability to carry out his duties in a wise and efficient manner is reflected in the smoothly operating non-instructional phase of the College.

Miss Rehbein, Mrs. Brown, Mr. Spentzas, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Brion, Mrs. O. Truba, Mr. Thomas.

Four years of college are behind our seniors and they are now preparing to face their first year of teaching. During the time they have spent on our campus, we have seen many improvements that can be attributed to this class. They have worked hard as individuals and as a group.

This year, while teaching off-campus for the first time, the secondary and some of the elementary students encountered the problems that the home economics students have faced in previous years. They found their own living accommodations and generally conducted themselves as teachers.

With graduation they are embarking on their separate careers. We know that they will live up to the expectations we have of them, and prove themselves worthy of their positions. We can only say as we see them go, those time-worn words, "Good luck, seniors!"

Our juniors embody many firsts. The class of '61 will be the first to be graduated with the new class rings which will indicate the changeover to our new Mansfield State College status. These rings will exemplify the school spirit shown by this group of students.

They also have the possibility of being the first group to be graduated under the new curriculum.

As they face the last quarter of the most important four years of their lives, the junior class will be able to see reminders of their achievements, and give inspiration to the classes that follow.

Sophomores—pause for a moment and look to the past. Do you remember when you first arrived at Mansfield? It was your initial experience with college life, and you made it a very successful experience. Your class was soon represented in all campus activities—from student government to athletics. You had several Dean's List students, proving your scholastic ability. You progressed through your freshman year into your sophomore year, where you continued to make more successful strides.

Now you have reached the half way mark of your college careers. You can look proudly to the past, but even more important you can look optimistically to the future. You face two more challenging and essential years. They will be the years which will mold you into well-rounded individuals, prepared to make your mark on society.

"And this, gentlemen, is the girls' dormitory," overheard during Open House in North Hall.

September found the Mansfield campus dotted with many new personalities—an eager, ambitious and, perhaps, confused group of freshmen. This group, the class of 1963, was immediately faced with many challenging situations. First they had to become accustomed to the various aspects of college life. Then they had to strive for individual accomplishments and also group harmony and success.

It did not take long for the freshmen to make the necessary adjustments. Soon a commendable number of the group were recognized on campus for participation in extracurricular activities and for achievement in the classroom. But, even more important, they had developed rapidly into a harmonious unit. Through cooperation and excellent guidance, they became a significant part of the Mansfield Campus. Now they rest on the threshold of three more years at Mansfield. Let us hope that these three years are as satisfying and successful to the class and to the school as has been the past year.

Don't be nervous; Speech class can't be that bad.

DEPARTMENT OF THE HUMANITIES

The Humanities Department, directed by Dr. Bernard Baum, was newly formed this year. It combines English, foreign languages, art, and speech. These fields all deal with man and his experiences. For many years, these areas were kept separate. Now, they can assume their true relationship to each other. Now, they can be directed as integral parts of a whole rather than areas with different aims and objectives.

Students with similar interests are brought together in order to stimulate them to engage more actively in the study of their major field. This concept is in accordance with the newly devised plan to promote interest and growth in all campus departments. In addition, it is hoped that this interest will overflow into college organizations.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Under the curriculum revision plans, the Department of Science and Mathematics was formed. The objectives of this organization are to advance the study of these two fields and to act as a catalytic force in the movement for better, more capable people in the fields of science and mathematics.

With Mr. Edward Zadorozny as the head of this department, it is guided by the principle that a complete curriculum contains courses that become a vital part of an area of study fast advancing in the modern world. Following this idea, courses new to Mansfield, such as history of mathematics and microbiology, are being offered.

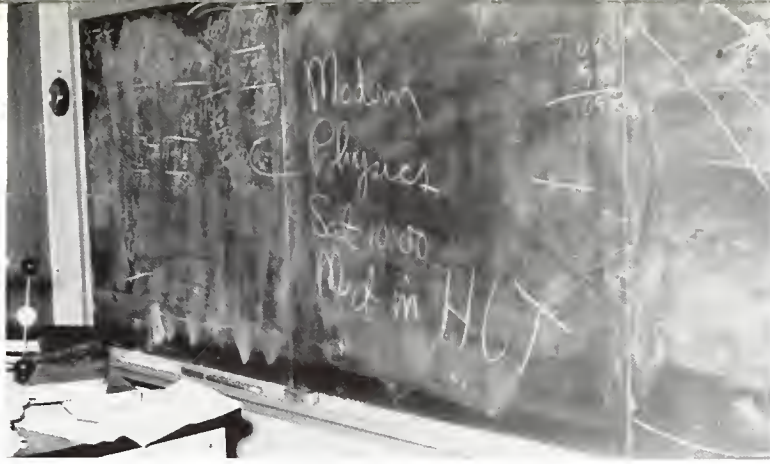

The fields of science and mathematics have made vast strides within the last decade and it is the basic aim of the department to enable its students to keep abreast of recent developments in their fields.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

The Department of Social Sciences was formed to provide the best possible organizational medium in which faculty members teaching courses in the social sciences, and students majoring in the areas could heighten the effectiveness of both teaching and learning in this vast sphere of knowledge. Within the framework of this department, the disciplines of history, political science, sociology, economics, and geography are brought together. The aims of this organization are to establish an awareness of the significance of the social sciences and to build a strong sense of intellectual and academic pride among those who have chosen the social sciences as their field of specialization.

In order to stimulate interest in pertinent issues, the social sciences department has initiated the publishing of The Gadfly. This monthly hopes to burst the bubble of complacency that often encircles students' thinking about topics that affect our campus, and on a larger scale, our nation and the world. Under the aegis of Dr. S. Portnoy, Head of the Department, The Gadfly brings to the college a fresh view of world happenings.

With strong leadership, interested students, and adequate opportunity, the Department of Social Sciences provides a stimulus for arousing students in this field.

The department under the direction of its head Dr. Portnoy publishes The Gadfly monthly for the purpose of stimulating and arousing the students' interests in the social science field.

DEPARTMENT OF HOME ECONOMICS

Since May 13, 1925, Mansfield State College has been authorized to grant the degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics. In 1931, the success of the graduates in this field was recognized by the Office of Education, Washington, D. C., leading to the approval of the Department of Home Economics for the preparation of vocational and general Home Economics teachers.

The main purpose of this area is to prepare students for teaching; however, with additional education many other fields are open to graduates such as the extension program, utilities, and the field of dietetics.

Faculty members offer a broad overview in many fields. Clothing selection and construction, foods and nutrition, and furniture refinishing are just a few of the courses offered to prepare the students to be homemakers and teachers. The department is affiliated with the national honor society, Kappa Omicron Phi.

The Home Economics Department is constantly striving to keep up with the present needs of our times. Beginning September 1960, the students will have one semester of student teaching in related activities in selected student teaching centers.

DR. SYLVESTER SCHMITZ
Director of the Music Education
Department

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC EDUCATION

According to Dr. Schmitz, the Music Department director, innovations will be made in the music curriculum. It is his hope that a major-minor arrangement will be established. Now, a student "specializes" in one instrument, but he also receives a good quantity of instruction on all instruments. Since the public schools are in need of specialists, students will spend more time on their major and minor, thus becoming more competent on particular instruments. General courses will still be offered for those who expect to teach in situations requiring a broad, general curriculum.

Music organizations on campus offer a fine opportunity for the prospective teacher to put his talents to use. Opera Workshop, Chorus, Wind Ensemble, Orchestra, and Brass Ensemble provide cultural entertainment through both student and faculty recitals. These programs, such as the recital given by the Mansfield State College Chorus at the P.M.E.A. convention held in Harrisburg, do much for our college along public relations lines. These organizations are valuable to the music student because they stress a knowledge of music principles and competence in a particular area. Mansfield can well be proud of its musicians and their work.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

One of the new departments established in the curriculum revision is the Education Department headed by Dr. Hunsicker. This includes what was formerly the Elementary and Secondary Departments and all courses which constitute the professional training of a teacher.

The basic purpose of the Education Department is to provide professional training for teachers. The courses included herein are the psychology courses, professional orientation, audio-visual education, the general methods courses, and all of the elementary curriculum.

"A unique feature of M.S.C.'s elementary curriculum," says Dr. Hunsicker, "is that students begin their work with children in the freshman year and continue to have this direct contact with the small ones throughout the four years' training." Overseeing our elementary students in the laboratory school are instructors qualified with advanced degrees. Some of the general types of study and work involved are the preparation of teaching materials, physical education, lunch duty, studying records and statistics of the lower grades, and a full semester of student teaching in two grades. Our elementary students are certified to teach at any level from kindergarten to the sixth grade in any subject area.

Secondary students acquire their practice teaching experiences off-campus, going into the high schools of the surrounding area. Upon the completion of this valuable training, they are certified to teach their chosen subject matter field in junior or senior high schools.

With more general education courses coming in the new curriculum, plus specialized subject matter courses, and professional education, elementary and secondary students will realize the unique preparation required of teachers.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A school is only as good as its government. Without an ambitious and strong ruling body a school would soon become disorganized and weak. Mansfield State College can be proud of her ruling body, the Student Council. Glance at the fading year and you will find much evidence of the council's fine work for the betterment of our progressing campus.

The council spent many hours revising the old constitution which is the basis of student government. They undertook the task of establishing a new style class ring. They initiated the college radio programs over area stations. They made the all college bulletin board a reality. Innumerable student committees were appointed by the council to carry out various necessary college functions.

The accomplishments of the sixteen-member council were many. But most important, their accomplishments were always made with the students in mind or through direct student contact. They realized that they were representing the whole student body and, while they had to be a separate unified group, they were not segregated from the student body.

WOMEN'S DORM COUNCIL

The women's dorm contains one of the largest groups on campus. The governing of such a large group entails much responsibility and hard work centered in the student governing body of North Hall — the Women's Dorm Council. Guided by its president, Mag Billow, and faculty adviser, Dean Jackson, the council has made many successful attempts to fulfill its numerous obligations.

The council made early plans for the dorm parties, where the women became acquainted with each other. Later in the year the organization entered a fine float in the Homecoming parade, and also entered a group in the Grecian Sing who won second prize. A very enjoyable weekend, sponsored by the Women's Dorm, can be accredited to the council and the women of North Hall, as can the exceptional edition of Harmony Hall, the guidebook for the women.

South Hall and the recently added annex have been governed this year, as in the past, under the careful auspices of the Men's Dormitory Council. This council has worked throughout the year helping to orient freshman students, keeping order in the dorm, and sponsoring an open house, a dorm weekend, and a Homecoming Day float.

The council, under the direction of Dean Sundberg, has charge of men dorm students and their activities. The final activity of the year is the campaign waged for the election of councilmen during which is stressed the idea that in order to have a suitable dormitory in which to live and study, it is vital to choose with care the members of the dormitory council.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Here is a really hard-working group! It is by these people that the budget for the entire school is handled.

Each organization submits its budget to the committee. The budgets are given a thorough examination, after which a representative of each organization is called in to answer any questions that may have arisen. Now is the time for approval or rejection of the budgets. When all the budgets have been approved by the committee, they are submitted to the Student Council for final approval.

This year our Budget Committee was confronted with many problems. However, through endless hours of hard work, they once again attained their goal—a well-balanced budget for all.

All suggestions are taken before this council and given careful consideration. We owe much to these students who have given their time to making our Student Union the friendly and attractive place that it is.

LAMBDA MU

Lambda Mu is Mansfield's honorary music sorority on campus. Founded in 1933 it is in its twenty-seventh year. To be eligible for membership in this sorority a woman must be either a second semester sophomore or an upper-classman enrolled in the music curriculum. She also must have attained outstanding academic and musical accomplishments.

This year Lambda Mu pledged eleven new members. They presented a program of Christmas music enjoyed by both faculty and students, and sponsored an alumnae breakfast and a banquet ending their year's activities.

Throughout their existence as an organization it has been the aim of Lambda Mu to foster music and musical interests and appreciation, to offer opportunity and encouragement for individual development of talent in music, and to maintain high scholastic and professional standards.

WHO'S WHO

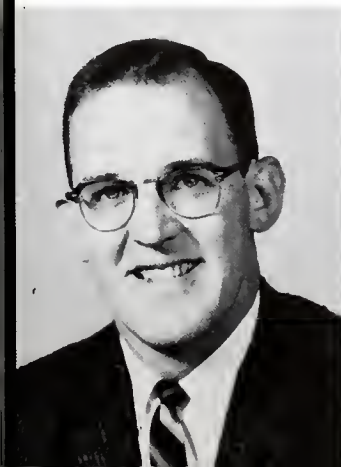

One of the highest honors which can be accorded a student at Mansfield State College is membership in Who's Who. Students are selected every year by a committee consisting of the President of the College, Dean of Instruction, Dean of Students, Deans of Men and Women, Heads of the Departments, and sophomore and junior members of the Student Council. Students are chosen for membership in Who's Who on the basis of scholarship, leadership, participation in extracurricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to their profession and to society.

Approximately 675 colleges and universities in the United States are represented in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

A.C.E.

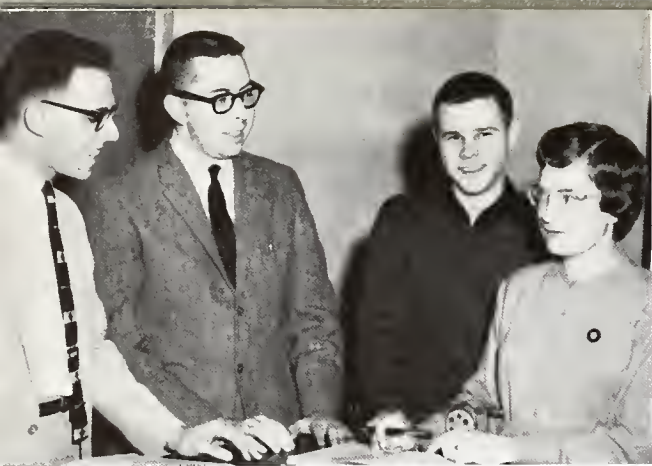

The Association for Childhood Education is an organization open to the faculty and students in the elementary curriculum. This organization was begun at Mansfield in 1938 and since then has greatly increased membership.

The aims of the club are to encourage and help the members to become better teachers so that they might be able to advance education and the well-being of children. Monthly meetings provide the stimuli for discussing topics of interest to the group. On October 15, 1959, Dr. Enstrom, a Research Consultant for the Peterson Handwriting System, gave a talk on handwriting entitled "Write Right." Mrs. Randolph, on November 19, spoke on her field of education, "Special Education." The group was also introduced to Germany through slides shown by Karen Bachman. Karen spent six months in Germany sponsored by the 4-H clubs of America. There she lived with several German families and visited several of their schools.

On April 21, the annual A.C.E. banquet was held at the Methodist church. The officers for next year were installed and several past members gave a brief review of the experiences which they encountered during their past year of teaching.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

College Players is an organization open to those interested in dramatic arts. Each member has an opportunity to work in the field of dramatics which interests him the most.

Under the guidance of the club's adviser, Mr. Joseph Conaway, a successful production of "The Matchmaker" was presented on November 20 and 21.

A Theatre Omnibus was substituted this spring for the usual spring play production. The purpose of this theatre was to acquaint the campus and club members with the different fields of dramatics. Members who didn't have the time to devote to an entire production were able to participate in character sketches, one-act plays, and excerpts from familiar plays.

Another first for the club was a trip to New York in April. Members spent a weekend in New York City sightseeing and enjoying several plays.

The year's activities came to a halt with the second annual award given at Award's Assembly to the outstanding member.

ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club aims to stimulate a general appreciation of good literature, both spoken and written, and to promote high standards and professional attitudes. To further these objectives the organization has sponsored two major projects this year. They have brought to the campus the Sir Lawrence Olivier film masterpiece, Shakespeare's King Henry the Fifth, to which area high school students as well as our own college and community residents were invited guests. The club was responsible for the presentation of Dr. Marcus Konick as an assembly speaker. Recently appointed Director of Curriculum Materials and Mass Media for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, Dr. Konick is an experienced teacher and a past president of the Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of English. He is responsible for the appointment of the committee for the preparation of the recently published Literary Magazine of Pennsylvania of which Dr. Elizabeth Swan is the chairman.

The English Club helped to promote the series of fine American and foreign films shown at the Twain Theater in Mansfield which were selected by Dr. Bernard Baum and Mr. J. E. Conaway.

Programs of interest to writers also were presented this year such as the talk by Mr. Wendell T. Card, author, entitled "From Sheep-pen to Fountain Pen."

The Geography Club seeks to recognize and promote interest in geography among the members of the student body. Membership is open to all students majoring or minoring in geography. Others who have a "B" average in geography and an over-all academic average of 1.5 may also join.

At their monthly meetings, the club plans a program of particular interest to geography students. These programs consist of guest speakers and slides on some geographical topic. A banquet is held annually for members and their guests. This organization seeks primarily to extend the academic growth of its members in the area of geography.

I.C.G.

I.C.G. is an organization dedicated to the principles of better government. The Mansfield chapter is actively interested in politics and governmental affairs, taking the motto of the state organization as its guide: "Our purpose is not to preach, nor even teach, but merely provide a means whereby students may learn together how their government operates." The importance of the knowledge and use of parliamentary procedure is stressed.

Each spring delegates from the club attend a state-wide convention in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. This year the program will be a model National Political program.

I.C.G. and M.O.F. co-sponsored this fall an assembly program: "Spotlight on Politics—Which Party for the American People, Democrat or Republic?" Two members of congress were present for this event: William Green and the late Alvin Bush. On March 15 I.C.G. held a Presidential Preference Primary and sponsored an evening program at which two congressional candidates spoke.

Membership in I.C.G. is open to all students on campus interested in becoming better citizens through an increased knowledge and understanding of their government.

KAPPA PHI

The Kappa Phi Club is an organization formed to bring a closer association among Methodist women on campus. Any woman student attending Mansfield who is a member of the Methodist Church or attends the Methodist Church by preference is invited to join.

The organization's purpose is to make the work among student women of the Methodist Church more effective by providing religious training for wholesome living.

Mrs. Randolph, sponsor, and Mrs. Colegrove, associate sponsor, help to plan the meetings which centered around the main theme for this year, "The Church for You Doth Wait." Taking care of the nursery every Sunday and sending cheer to the shut-ins are representative of the services performed by the Kappa Phi, Alpha Zeta chapter.

"M" CLUB

The "M" Club is an organization composed of men who have earned a varsity letter in at least one of the intercollegiate sports. It was organized in the fall of 1921 by one of the college students. Its purposes are to encourage high standards of personal conduct and to maintain friendly athletic relations with other recognized degree-granting institutions.

The "M" Club, under the presidency of Dick Lehman, has one of the most successful programs on campus. Among the activities were the "M" Club dance, held annually on Homecoming Day, the management of the printing and selling of programs at home football games, and the welcoming of visiting college teams.

This year this organization decorated the foyer of the gym with pictures of athletes of the past.

Launched in the fall of 1958, Mansfield Open Forum is an organization sponsored by the Department of Social Sciences and open to all students interested in the discussion of serious problems and ideas of a political, economic, social, and broadly intellectual nature. The aim of the organization is to stimulate critical thinking among students and to fulfill the basic desire of shedding light upon rather than merely generating heat about, serious questions. Among the subjects discussed at M.O.F. meetings were: "INDIA," "The Role of the U. S. Supreme Court," "American Foreign Policy," and "The Population Explosion." A highlight M.O.F. activity was the assembly program—"Spotlight on American Politics: Which Party for the American Voter, Democratic or Republican?" Speakers for the occasion were two United States Congressmen from Pennsylvania, the late Congressman, Alvin Bush (R), from the Seventeenth District and Congressman William Green, leader of the Democratic party in the Philadelphia area.

MUSIC EDUCATION

Students and faculty members of the Music curriculum are eligible for membership in the Music Education Club. The purpose of this club is to give its members a better understanding of music education.

The meetings are held the third Monday of every month. The programs, under the supervision of the adviser Dr. Henry, deal with lectures concerning teacher and music education. Instrument clinics are also conducted with an annual picnic at the end of the year.

NEWMAN CLUB

It is the aim of Newman Club to foster the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of the Catholic students on campus. Membership in this organization is open to all Catholic students enrolled at Mansfield State College.

The name of this organization is derived from its patron, John Henry Newman, an English scholar and theologian who lived during the nineteenth century. Mansfield's chapter of Newman Club is affiliated with the National Newman Club Federation and the Middle Atlantic Province.

This year, Newman Club sponsored two communion breakfasts, one in November and one on Palm Sunday. During Lent, mass was said for Newmanites each Tuesday morning.

This organization also takes an active part in the social aspects of college life. Weekend dances, movies and their participation in the Homecoming parade show this.

OMICRON GAMMA PI

Omicron Gamma Pi, affiliated with the National American Home Economics Association, is the organization for Home Economics students on our campus. Its monthly meetings feature such highlights as a lecture by a representative of the American Baking Institute and explanations of summer projects carried out by seniors.

Activities undertaken by O.G.P. included a fashion show, open to the public, and their Homecoming Float, Steps in Fashion. "The Man Hatter Dance," part of their weekend, provided an enjoyable evening's entertainment for the college.

Omicron Gamma Pi fulfills well its objectives of building interest in Home Economics and increasing understanding about the various fields of Home Economics Education.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association is an interdenominational organization extending its membership to all students and faculty of the college. The organization provides opportunities for its members to grow in the Christian faith and to gain a better insight into their responsibilities as Christian students and citizens.

Meetings are held weekly featuring guest speakers from throughout the state, foreign students from other colleges and group discussions on issues of pertinent interest to all. Sacred record programs are held during the year. The group sponsors service programs including Christmas welfare gifts, caroling at Blossburg State Hospital and the awarding of a scholarship to a deserving student. Social gatherings in the fall and an annual spring picnic add variety to the scheduled programs throughout the year. During the 1959-60 school year S.C.A. sponsored a float in the Homecoming Day Parade which took third prize and also sponsored a weekend on campus.

MARCHING BAND

NANCY MILLER
Head Majorette

The band goes through its paces.

Mansfield's football games would not be complete without the colorful spectacle of the Mansfield Marching Band in their brilliant red and black uniforms, lending school spirit and team spirit to the games. The Marching Band enjoys the reputation of being one of the finest marching units in the East. Under the directorship of Mr. Bertram Francis and with Robert Fuller as head drum major, the group has never failed to thrill and amaze spectators with its intricate maneuvers and displays of precision and advanced technique. During the 1959-60 school year the Band traveled to Lock Haven and Kutztown to perform at football games. At the end of the football season, the band goes "indoors" and becomes a second concert band. Membership in the Marching Band is open to any college student who wishes to join and provides a unique musical experience both to its members and spectators.

A description of the status of the Esquires and their relation to the college and the professional world of music seems stated best in the words of their faculty adviser, Mr. Bertram Francis: "A dual arrangement." That is, the group is a college organization, yet when they are on a job playing for a dance, they are each professional musicians belonging, by necessity, to the musician's union. Wilson College in Chambersburg, Lycoming College, and Edison High School in Elmira Heights are a few of the many schools who have enjoyed the best in dance music via the Esquires. They perform with the Concert Wind Ensemble when it is on tour, as the Esquires are all members of this Ensemble. In such performances they technically lose their professional status and are officially representing the college.

Membership is highly competitive and open to anyone by audition. Chosen are those with experience in the field of jazz and dance band who can prove their worth.

Under the leadership of Porter Eidam and the management of William Carlson, the Esquires have completed another rewarding year.

 ROW 5: F. Keller, P. Sanden, R. Schappelle, J. Umbenhauer, D. Beck, P. Davis.

A "streamlined" version of the concert band with little duplication is Mansfield's Concert Wind Ensemble. Attaining a well-known reputation for its highly versatile and professional style of playing, the group has presented concerts throughout Pennsylvania and New York. Included in this year's itinerary were tours in the Scranton area and in central Pennsylvania, including Montgomery, Muncy, Montoursville and other towns.

CAMPUS CHORALAIRES

Campus Choralaires, under the direction of Mr. Charles Fowler, is composed of interested students from all departments of the college, and is required of music freshmen. This year the chorus presented an assembly program in January which was repeated for the local high school. Music on the program included Ave Marie by DeVictoria, Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee by Bach, Te Deum by Holst and several modern selections. Accompanists were Susan Partchey and Paul Donnelley.

In the spring Campus Choralaires joined with the Advanced Chorus for the annual spring choral festival, directed this year by Miss Margaret Hillis.

The Woodwind Quintet is a select group of advanced woodwind players. Their aims are to increase their enjoyment and understanding of intricate ensemble playing. Under the direction of Dr. Benjamin Husted, the Woodwind Quintet has presented assembly programs for the student body and has given programs for various organizations in the area.

OPERA WORKSHOP

Under the direction of Mr. Jack M. Wilcox, Opera Workshop's aim is to provide experience in opera and musical stage shows for Mansfield students. In the fall they present an opera; in the spring, a musical. Guys and Dolls by Frank Loesser was a principal campus attraction of the 1959-60 school year.

Operating rather independently of the above productions is the Road Company which performs upon invitation for schools and service organizations. The Company's program consists of excerpts from both opera and musicals.

Membership is open to any qualified student interested in Opera Workshop and its functions. Singers, actors, dancers, and stagecraftsmen who meet Mr. Wilcox's approval are welcomed into the group.

ADVANCED CHORUS

In addition to its regular schedule of activities, the Advanced Chorus presented by invitation, a concert in Harrisburg for the state convention of the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association. The principal works on the program were Vaughn Williams' Mass in G Minor and Trois Chansons by Debussy. This program was repeated for the annual College-Community Christmas Vespers. A Christmas assembly was also presented for the student body. In this appearance the chorus was joined by Dr. Bernard Baum as narrator in selections of poetry and prose.

Participation in chorus is required of all music majors during their four-year study. Any other college student may sing with the organization.

In the spring Miss Margaret Hillis of the American Concert Choir in New York City came to our campus as guest conductor in a concert featuring Bruckner's Mass in E Minor with wind instrument ensemble and Bernard Heiden's Divine Poems. The music for baccalaureate and other vespers completed the year's activities.

THE PARADE

The Mounties' statistics of two wins, four losses, and two ties is a rather deceiving one. Except for a 54-0 rout suffered at the hands of West Chester, the Mounties' record could easily have been better. Coach Stelmack felt that despite the team's losing record, it was one of the better teams fielded by Mansfield in the past few years.

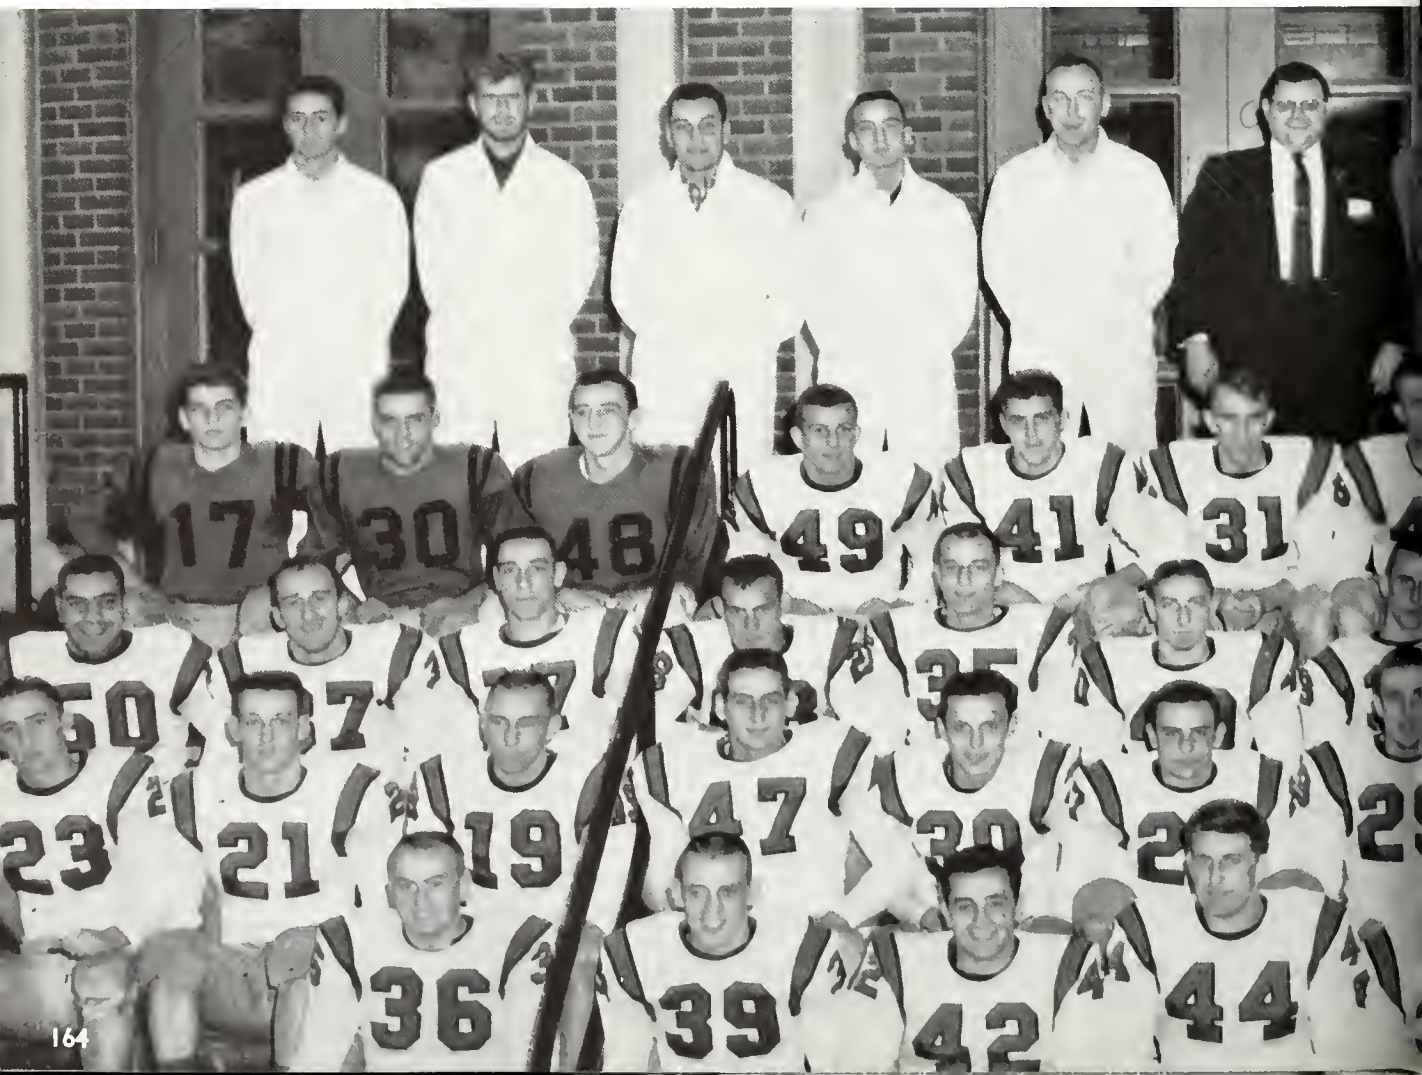

This year's edition of the Mansfield Mountaineers was led by captain Gib Moore. Gib, playing outstanding football, was named to the first team All-State Teachers College. He was given ample support on the other side of the line by John Frontino, a big burly tackle who likes lots of action. Right in the middle of things was our little guy, Joe Scancelli. At the guards were Jimmy Talerico and Duane Havens. Seeing plenty of action up front in the line were Gary Shoemaker, tackle, Ken "Snuffy" Sukenic, guard, Carm Pascarella and Dick Lehman, tackles, and Bud Downey, guard.

Turning in creditable jobs at the ends were "Jug" McKeever and Ray Ronchi. Leading the Mounts in the backfield were Wes Wertz, a hard-running fullback, and Ed Souders, a shifty elusive halfback. Rounding out the Mountie back field were Ed Henry, halfback, and George Shubic, quarterback.

No report of the team would be complete without mentioning Phil DeWitt. Phil was probably the most underrated ball player on the team, yet the most versatile. Phil was just as happy cutting down an enemy halfback with a bone crushing tackle as he was leading the Mounts to a touchdown from his quarterback slot. All in all, the season wasn't too successful but will definitely give the other teams something to think about for next year.

DANCE

... and the band played on.

The Junior-Senior prom afforded a wonderful evening for all.

A few minutes rest to admire the scenery.

SHOTS

That tree has orchids on it!

They could have danced all night.

CAMPUS

ACTIVITIES

"How do you do?" Mrs. Roosevelt. "Welcome to Mansfield."

Dr. Rathgeber introduces Mrs. Roosevelt to Jerry O'Dell, Student Council President.

SEPTEMBER 23, 1959 VISITS M.S.C.

Mrs. Roosevelt is introduced to the Day Student Presidents.

Surrounded by presidents, Mrs. Roosevelt discusses current topics.

Dinner is served! Mrs. Roosevelt dines with faculty and students in the campus dining hall.

MRS. ROOSEVELT CAMPUS

A bit of humor is welcomed, even in the best of speeches.

185

Mrs. Roosevelt is received at the President's home.

Dr. Rathgeber and Mrs. Roosevelt chat before her lecture.

SPOTLIGHT ON POLITICS

Seated: Senator Green, President Rathgeber, Senator Bush, Ronald Sick, Tom Urell.
Standing: James Ide, Samuel Livingston.

Right:
Senator Bush, Samuel Livingston, President Rathgeber, Senator Green, James Ide.

M.S.C. Students enter Straughn Auditorium to hear M.O.F.-I.C.G. assembly on government.

In order to inform the M.S.C. student body about the workings of government, I.C.G. and M.O.F. sponsored an assembly dealing with the citizen and his government. Representatives of different governmental levels, Congress and local government, discussed their philosophies and their party's platforms. After hearing these speakers, the student was better qualified to evaluate the political situation.

Tom Urell, party leader, speaks on local government and the voter's responsibility.

ELMIRA JUNIOR BALLET

CHRISTMAS

DECORATING

Another first for Mansfield—Moon-men! Third floor won first prize for their "well" decorating.

AND PARTY MAKING

"There's always room for one more?"

"Chin up"—this won't hurt a bit. Just a flash and it's over.

The lounge is a good place for any party.

Nothing eases tension like a little party now and then.

"Do tell!"

SHOTS

"No! No! I don't want you to take it now!" shouts Kay.

ON

Have broom,
will sweep.

ABOUT

Is astronomy included in the speech curriculum?

Peek-a-boo.

Don't you dare!

The heat's on in North Hall.

Peggy doesn't seem too pleased at the prospect of having her picture taken.

AND

Our own "Hustlin' Hap."

Leaving us, girls?

CAMPUS

Give me just five minutes more before class.

QUEEN OF THE MAY

Miss Marilyn Christ

THE CROWNING

Queen Marilyn Christ is crowned by Cliff
Kreamer, President of Student Council.

THE COURT

J. Hoffman, P. McManigle, L.
Francis, J. Marshall, M. Christ,
T. Queipo, J. Francis, B. Franko,
D. Hemphill.

Anastasia's long struggle to prove her identity moves slowly but surely. (T. Chiarilli, Z. Kemler, J. Powell, M. Davis).

Anastasia gains her rightful place. (S. McDonald, M. Davis, M. Christ, C. Silsbee).

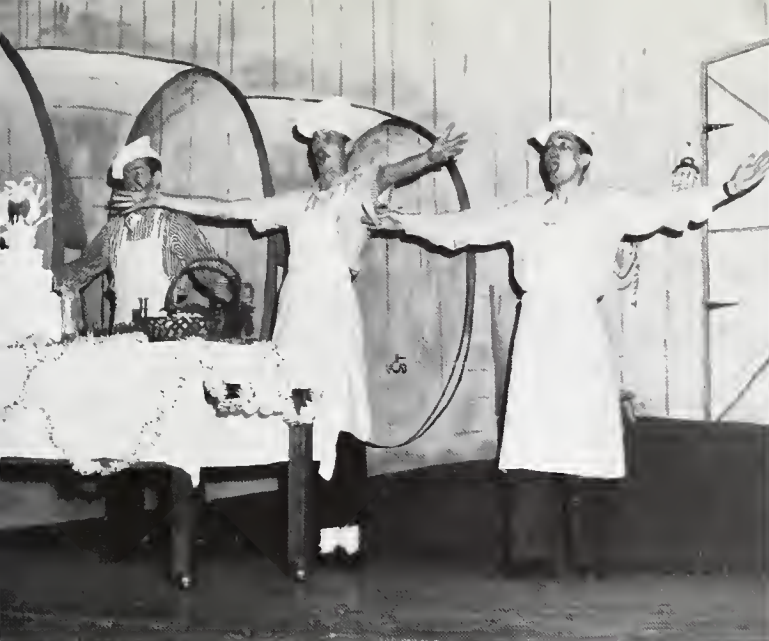

A double dinner date—how splendid! (M. Davis, J. McGrath, G. Matthews, M. McNaney).

"Aha!"—poor, broke Cornelius Hackle (M. McNaney) is discovered dining in an exclusive cafe by his employer, Mr. Vandergetler (Zane Kemler).

ANASTASIA

MATCHMAKER

The cooks (J. Kiely, W. Buckner, and A. Strupcewski) prepare the wedding feast.

"How Beautiful the Day Is"—
L. Harris and J. Powell.

OPERA WORKSHOP'S

Practice makes perfect.

MOST HAPPY FELLOW

Careful, Bernie, don't smear that make-up.

Mr. Wilcox gives his cast moral support before the production.

There's one for everyone.
The students wait patiently to receive their yearbooks.

PUBLICATIONS

Editor-in-Chief
SANDRA MAXSON

The staff of the 1960 edition of the Carontawan has put much time and effort into what they hope will prove to be the best yearbook ever.

It is the hope of the staff that this yearbook truly represents all phases of our college life in the past year and that it will bring joy and satisfaction to every student.

PASSWORD

The Password is a student handbook published annually by the Student Council. It is primarily a guide for Freshmen, although upperclassmen also find it quite useful.

The Password is not only a book of regulations, activities, and organizations, but it also contains a message from the President, a college calendar, songs, and cheers, a map of the campus, and miscellaneous items of information.
